MARKET SQUARE ARENA

Market Square Arena, built by the city of Indianapolis and completed in 1974, is one of the premier sports and entertainment showplaces in the midwest.

The building was designed by Kennedy, Brown and Associates and constructed by Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Ground breaking ceremonies were held Oct. 20, 1971, and Sept. 15, 1974, the building was officially opened. The Pacers fell to San Antonio, 129-121, in double overtime in their first appearance in the building on Oct. 18, 1974.

Five nights later, Oct. 23, 1974, saw Indiana take its first victory in its "new" home as the Pacers dumped the Spirits of St. Louis, 122-107.

Market Square Arena highlights include the 1980 NCAA basketball semifinals and finals; the 1978 and 1979 NCAA basketball Mid-East Regionals; NBA's All-Star Saturday in 1985; the annual Indiana state high school basketball and wrestling championships; Elvis Presley's last concert on June 26, 1977; 1982 National Sports Festival; and 1987 Pan American Games basketball competition.

Site of countless sports and spectator events including circuses, rodeos, ice shows, major concerts, tennis and hockey, MSA has a seating capacity for concerts of 18,250; the same for boxing; 16,912 for basketball and 16,000 for hockey. All seats in the circular arena are free from posts and other obstructions of view. Prior to the 1984-85 NBA season, MSA underwent major reconstruction to include the most modern in handicap provisions.

The finest in dining is provided at Market Square Gardens restaurant, located on the seventh level on the west side of the building.

MELVIN SIMON
Owner

Shopping center developer Melvin Simon, founder of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc. (MSA), was born in Brooklyn in 1926. His family later moved to the Bronx, and Melvin graduated from the Bronx High School of Science. He received a Bachelor degree from City College of New York.

Melvin's service in the U.S. Army included a transfer to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis where, upon completion of his army service, he began his career in a field which now recognizes both him and his company as industry leaders.

Melvin's initiation in the real estate field was as a leasing agent with the Albert Frankel Company at a salary of $100 per week. He enjoyed his work there—making deals to fill strip centers—but became restless as he began to notice the great opportunities in shopping center development.

In 1960, he left Frankel and founded MSA with his brothers, Herbert and Fred. The company started as a developer of small, community plazas. As larger, enclosed shopping malls emerged as an integral part of the American culture, MSA became a leader in developing the type of facilities American shoppers wanted. The company's development portfolio includes more than 100 community centers and 75 enclosed regional malls, in addition to numerous mixed-use developments and urban redevelopment projects.

MSA is currently ranked by National Mall Monitor and Shopping Center World as the nation's largest shopping center manager and one of the nation's largest developers.

One of Melvin's personal endeavors was his involvement in motion picture production in Hollywood during the late '70s and early '80s. The name of Melvin Simon Productions appeared on such movies as "Love at First Bite," "Uforia," "My Bodyguard," "The Stunt Man," and "Porky's." Melvin's wife, Bren, has also established herself in a successful career in interior design. Together they have five children.

A firm supporter of professional and community groups, Melvin is a Trustee of the Urban Land Institute and a Trustee of the International Council of Shopping Centers. He is also a board member of several organizations including United Cerebral Palsy, Muscular Dystrophy Association, "500" Festival Associates, The Fort Lauderdale Boys Club, the Jewish Welfare Foundation and serves on the Dean's Council for Indiana University. Most recently, Melvin has joined the Advisory Board of Wharton's Real Estate Center based at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. In 1980, he was named "Man of the Year" by the Jewish Welfare Foundation. In 1986 he received an Honorary Doctoral Degree from Butler University in Indianapolis and was recipient of the Horatio Alger Award. And in June of 1988, Melvin was awarded the Golden Plate award by the American Academy of Achievement in Nashville, Tenn.

HERBERT SIMON
Owner

Shopping center developer Herbert Simon, co-founder of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc. (MSA), was born in Brooklyn in 1934. His family soon moved to the Bronx, and he attended City College of New York where he received his undergraduate degree in business.

Herb came to Indianapolis in September 1959, and joined his brother in founding Melvin Simon & Associates in June 1960. The company started as a developer of small community plazas. The company's development portfolio includes more than 100 community centers and more than 75 enclosed regional malls, in addition to numerous mixed-use developments and urban redevelopment projects.

MSA is currently ranked by National Mall Monitor and Shopping Center World as the nation's largest shopping center manager and one of the nation's largest developers.

Herb's business interests beyond real estate development include a chain of direct diamond importers, a licensed activewear manufacturer, a computerized ticket operation, and the Indiana Pacers.

A strong supporter of community groups, Herb has served as a board member of many organizations including the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, the Indianapolis Museum of Art, and Butler University in Indianapolis. He is capital campaign co-chair for Orchard County Day School and was co-chair of the Pan Am Games opening and closing ceremonies in 1987.

Herb and his wife, Diane Meyer, have five children.

DONNIE WALSH
President

Since Donnie Walsh was named general manager of the Indiana Pacers in April, 1986, it has been a steady stream of activity for the Pacers on and off the court. And every indicator points toward continued improvement in every aspect of the Pacers' organization with sights set for the goal of building a world championship team.

Recently Walsh was named president of the Indiana Pacers Basketball Corp., which not only runs the Pacers, but directs the management of Market Square Arena.

In Walsh's first two seasons as G.M., the Pacers enjoyed two of their finest seasons since joining the National Basketball Association in 1976. Home attendance the last two years have ranked No. 1 and 2 in the club's history and their 41- and 38-victory totals rank 2nd and 3rd on the all-time win list.

Walsh, an assistant coach for the Pacers for two years before being named G.M., got into coaching following a highly successful basketball playing career at the University of North Carolina. He played three years (1958-61) under Frank McGuire (who guided the Tar Heels to the 1957 NCAA title) and his senior season for then first-year head coach Dean Smith.

Upon graduating from UNC, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School where he was the associate editor of the Law Review. He had opportunities to join then former Vice President Richard Nixon's New York law firm and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors Program, but he turned them down to take a graduate assistant coaching position under Smith at North Carolina.

A year later, Walsh joined McGuire at the University of South Carolina as associate head coach. He spent 12 years there before deciding to enter law. He passed the Bar Exam in 1977 and was about to enter private practice when Denver Nuggets coach Larry Brown, Walsh's running mate at guard at UNC, convinced him to join the Nuggets' staff. After serving as an assistant coach for a year and a half, he was suddenly thrust into the head coaching spot following Brown's resignation in February, 1979. He guided the Nuggets to a 19-10 record in the final two months of that season and wound up with a 60-82 record in two years as head coach.

Following his stay with Denver, Walsh entered private business. He joined the Pacers as an assistant coach to George Irvine after Irvine was named head coach in the summer of 1984.

One of Walsh's first actions as G.M. was the drafting of Chuck Person at the No. 4 position of the first round. Person went on to be named Rookie of the Year. Walsh was also responsible for finding a new head coach for the Pacers when Irvine stepped down in the summer of 1986 to become Indiana's director of player personnel. Walsh was able to lure Jack Ramsay, the second winningest coach in the history of the NBA, to join the Pacers.

Walsh is a native of New York City. He and his wife, Judy, have five children and live in Indianapolis.

GEORGE IRVINE
Vice President
Basketball Operations

As Vice President of Basketball Operations, George Irvine oversees the administrative side of the team, from budgets to scouting. He specializes in the scouting of college players as potential draft picks, current NBA players and anybody else who can play the game, from the CBA to Europe to AAU leagues.

JACK RAMSAY
Head Coach

Jack Ramsay answers most frequently to the title of Head Basetball Coach.

He'd need a business card the size of the free throw lane to find room for his other titles.

There's Doctor. Author. Triathlete. Teacher. Husband. Father. World Champion. Captain. And plenty more.

Ramsay was named the Pacers' head coach August 8, 1986. In 20 NBA seasons he has won 864 games (trailing only Red Auerbach's 938 victories on the NBA's all-time win list). He has been on the sideline for 1,640 games as an NBA coach, a league record.

Add 300 victories in 17 years on the college and high school levels and Ramsay has won an incredible 1,164 games.

John T. "Jack" Ramsay was born Feb. 21, 1925, in Philadelphia. He soon moved to Milford, Conn., where he grew up shooting baskets at a goal nailed to the side of a barn. As a sophomore in high school, Ramsay and his family moved to Upper Darby (a suburb of Philadelphia). An all-around athlete (he earned letters in basketball, baseball and soccer), he received the school's outstanding athlete award as a senior and was named to the all-county basketball team.

Ramsay earned a starting berth at St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia in 1942, but after his freshman season he entered the Navy. He was commissioned an Ensign in 1944 and served with underwater demolition teams as well as captain of an inter-island cargo vessel in the Pacific prior to his discharge in 1946.

He returned to St. Joseph's to continue his career in basketball as well as baseball. He captained the Hawks' cage team as a senior and made the all-Philadelphia team as a junior and senior.

Ramsay received a Bachelor of Science degree in social science in 1949 and began his coaching career at St. James High School in Chester, Pa. that fall. Coaching did not stop him from continuing his education or his playing.

He enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania where he obtained his Master's degree in education in 1952 and ultimately his Ph.D. in education in 1963.

Ramsay continued to play competitively for six years in the Eastern Basketball League for Harrisburg and Sunbury.

After three seasons at St. James (with a 26-40 record), Ramsay moved to Mt. Pleasant High School in Wilmington, Del. In three years there his teams were 40-18 and he was rewarded with the head coaching position at St. Joseph's in 1955.

In his first season, Ramsay led his alma mater to a 23-6 record, the school's first Big Five championship and a trip to the National Invitation Tournament, the school's first post-season tourney.

*NBA Playoffs NBA Championship

He stayed at St. Joseph's for 11 years, compiling a record of 234-72 with 10 post-season tournament appearances. At St. Joseph's, Ramsay had stints as athletic director and baseball coach, in addition to a full load of classes as a teacher and student.

He moved across town in 1966 and got his first taste of the NBA as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers. In his first season there, the 76ers won an NBA record 68 games enroute to the world championships.

After one more year in the front office, Ramsay was urged to return to the sideline. The 76ers went 55-27 in 1968-69 and Ramsay had them in the playoffs three out of four years.

He moved to the Buffalo Braves as head coach in 1972-73 and in four years there took teams into the playoffs three times (still the only appearances in the playoffs in the 17-year history of the franchise).

Ramsay became the head coach of the Portland Trail Blazers in 1976-77. He inherited a team which not only had never made the playoffs in the franchise's six years of existence, but had never had a winning record, either. In his first year there, he guided the Trail Blazers to a 49-33 record and the NBA championship. He followed that with a 58-24 mark in 1977-78, the best record in the league. In 10 seasons at Portland, his teams made the playoffs nine times.

Ramsay has been well respected by his peers throughout his career. He was the NBA All-Star Game coach in 1978 and is the author of two books: Pressure Basketball and The Coaches Art. Both books are still being used extensively in the coaching profession.

Ramsay maintains a vigorous exercise routine, as well as a strict diet. He bicycled from Indianapolis to his summer home in New Jersey and has been competing in triathlons for several years.

Ramsay broke the three-hour barrier in the triathlon (usually a one-mile swim, 25-mile bike ride and 6.5 mile run, all done without any rest in between) and finished 11th in the 60-and-over age bracket of the national triathlon championships.

Ramsay and his wife, Jean, have three daughters and two sons.

RAMSAY AMONG ALL-TIME WINNINGEST COACHES

Jack Ramsay is the winningest basketball coach of all time, according to basketball historians.

That's if you qualify it to include only NBA, varsity boys high school and varsity men college games. Ramsay, who has coached at all three of those levels, has won 1,208 games (including 44 in the NBA playoffs). That's not including wins he accumulated as a player-coach in the old Eastern League in the '50s.

Among the winningest coaches at any level are:

- Bob Douglas, 2,318 wins as coach for the New York Renaissance pro touring team of the 1920-40's. The first black inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame, his teams had 14 straight 100-win seasons.
- Charles Womack, 1,570 wins as the boys and girls coach at Hawley, Texas High from 1947-79.
- Taft Watson, more than 1,300 wins as an active coach for the boys and girls at Terrill's Bay High in Centenary, S.C.
- Ernest Blood, 1,296 wins with prep, college and YMCA teams. He coached Passaic, N.J. High to a national record 159 straight wins from 1919-25.

MEL DANIELS
Assistant Coach

In his fifth season as a Pacer assistant is Mel Daniels. The former all-pro and two-time ABA MVP helped lead the Pacers to three ABA titles during his six years as a player with Indiana.

Daniels averaged 19.5 points and 15.9 rebounds per game from 1968-74. He was the ABA Rookie of the Year in '69 and the MVP of the 1971 All-Star game.

A native of Detroit, Daniels was an All-American at the University of New Mexico.

Daniels served as an assistant coach at Indiana State University from 1978-82 and was part of ISU's 33-1 NCAA championship runner-up team in 1978-79. Former Sycamore star Larry Bird credits Daniels with preparing him for the NBA.

Mel, an avid horseman, and his wife, CeCe, live in Indianapolis.

DAVE TWARDZIK
Assistant Coach

Dave Twardzik, a former player under Jack Ramsay for the Portland Trail Blazers, is in his third season on the Pacers' coaching staff.

Twardzik played for Portland for four years (1976-77 through 1979-80), including the 1976-77 National Basketball Association championship season. He averaged 9.5 points and 3.4 assists per game in his four-year career there.

Prior to joining Portland in 1976, Twardzik played for four years with the Virginia Squires in the American Basketball Association, where he was a teammate to George Irvine.

He was a Small College All-America guard at Old Dominion two seasons. He helped lead his ODU squad to the finals of the 1971 college division finals before losing to the University of Evansville.

After retiring as a player in 1981 with an injury, Twardzik worked in the Trail Blazers' front office. He spent four years as the analyst on the radio broadcasts and two seasons as an account executive in the marketing department.

A native of Middletown, Pa., Twardzik is married and has two children.

NBA TERMINOLOGY

ACTIVE LIST

The maximum number of active players is 12; the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. During the off-season and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST

When a player on the Playing Roster is unable, due to injury or illness, to perform his duties, his name may be transferred from the Active List to the Injured List. Any player placed on the Injured List, who is replaced on his team's Active List, must sit out at least five of his team's regular season games before he may be restored to the Active List. No more than three players may be on a team's Injured List at any one time.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT

On or after the 55th day following the first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team.

TRADING DEADLINE

No trades are permitted after 9 p.m. (EST) on the 16th Thursday of the regular season (that's Feb. 23 this season). From that point until the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

WAIVERS

From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one team claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The cost for a waived player is $1,000, payable to the League.

GUARANTEED CONTRACTS

On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person whose high school class has graduated and is at least 17 years old shall become eligible for the College Draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility remaining. Teams may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

SALARY CAP

The salary cap for the 1988-89 season is $7,232,000 per team. Charlotte and Miami are limited to $4,773,000. In order to ensure that the NBA players receive at least 53 percent of the League's revenues, teams will be required to spend a minimum of $6,690,000 on player salaries. The minimum team salaries for Charlotte and Miami is $4,415,000.

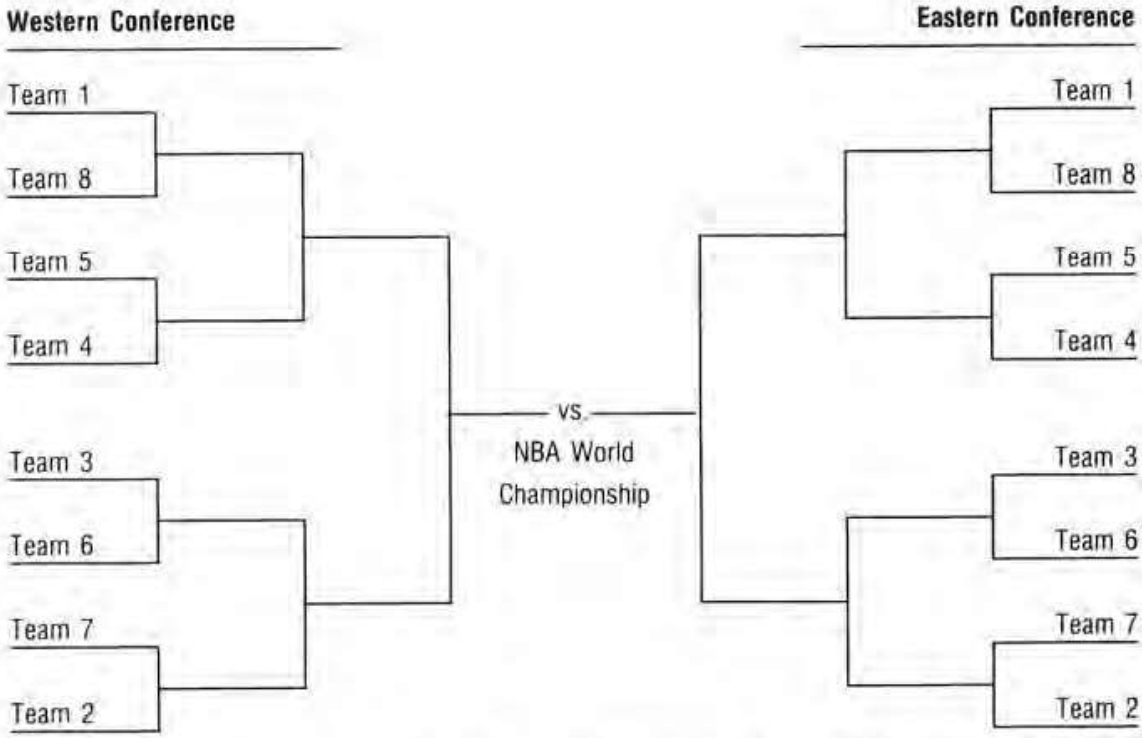
NBA PLAYOFF STRUCTURE

The following is the NBA playoff format and tie-breaking procedure for the 1988-89 NBA season:

1. Sixteen teams shall qualify for the playoffs. There shall be eight teams from each conference, consisting of the two division champions and the six other teams in each conference with the best winning percentage during the regular season.
2. The first round of the playoffs shall be a best-of-five series with all succeeding rounds, including the NBA World Championship Series, being best-of-seven.

Following are the playoff pairings:



Note: Team 1 in each conference is the division winner with the better record. Team 2 is the other division winner and Teams 3-8 are ranked according to their regular-season winning percentage.

PLAYOFF TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURE

In order to break a two-team tie for playoff positions, the following criteria will be used:

a) Results of games against each other
b) Better winning percentage within own conference
c) Better winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in same division)
d) Better winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference
e) Point differential in games against each other
f) Better point differential between offense and defense

A multiple-team tie will be broken in the folloing manner:

a) Best cumulative winning percentage in total games involving all teams tied
b) Best winning percentage within own conference
c) Best winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in same division)
d) Best winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference
e) Best point differential between offense and defense

PACERS' LONG SHOT ARTISTS

The Indiana Pacers have a knack for hitting long shots. And we do mean l-o-n-g!

It was Jerry Harkness who on Nov. 13, 1967, in Dallas hit an 88-foot shot, the longest in the history of professional basketball.

Then, on Jan. 8, 1986, in Market Square Arena, Herb Williams connected on an 81-footer, the second longest field goal in NBA history.

Harkness, who played just 81 games in the ABA, had reported in for an injured Freddie Lewis just moments before taking an inbounds pass with two seconds to go. The Pacers trailed Dallas by two points.

"I was near the baseline and the sideline and I just heaved the ball with all I had, the length of the court," Harkness recalled. "The buzzer went off, and then it hit the backboard and went right in the basket. Everyone was stunned. The fans stopped screaming and we all thought the game was going into overtime. It must have been five seconds before we realized that the basket was a three-point goal and that we had won."

Williams got his shot just before halftime against Sacramento. He grabbed a rebound in the paint, spun around and flung a one-hander the length of the court. Chicago's Norm Van Lier is credited with hitting the longest shot in the NBA—84 feet. It came on Jan. 19, 1977 at San Antonio.

HOW THE PACERS WERE NAMED

On Mar. 5, 1967, a group of Indianapolis businessmen purchased a franchise in the newly formed American Basketball Association. Indiana Professional Sports, Inc. was formed to own and operate the new franchise and on June 8, 1967, the team was named "Indiana Pacers" by General Manager Mike Storen.

The name was chosen because it would be a team for the entire state of Indiana and the organization intended to "set the pace" in professional basketball.
